VETO OF OHIO LABOR-CURBING BILL SUSTAINED

Legislators Fail To Override Herbert's Disapproval of Van Aken Measure.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O, July 1—Ohio legislators went home today after failing to overrule Gov Thomas J. Herbert's veto of the hotly contested Van Aken bill to regulate labor unions.

Before sine die adjournment of the 97th general assembly at 1 09 last night, the lawmakers sustained three gubernatorial vetoes, overrode two others and completed enactment of four additional bills

The house of representatives failed by 28 votes to pass the Van Aken act over the governor's veto The vote was 56 to 56, and 84 votes—three fifths—were needed to override the governor's decision that the bill was hastily drawn, possibly unconstitutional and unworkable

Rushed through in the final session and sent to the governor was a measure setting up a nine-member commission to study labor regulatory legislation and to prepare a substitute for the Van Aken bill by Jan 1

Follows Herbert Recommendation

The governor had recommended that the postwar program commission study the labor situation

The commission proposed by the legislature would be made up of three representatives, three senators and three members named by the governor Its study would be financed by an appropriation of $10,000.

The speaker of the house appointed the following representatives to the commission, Gordon Renner (R-Hamilton), Ben T Tuner (R-Meigs) and Guy D Hawley (R-Darke)

Senators appointed by the president pro tem were Roscoe R Walcutt (R- Franklin) Fred G. Reiners (R-Hamilton) and Carl D Sheppard (R-Summit).

The legislature sustained the governor's veto of a measure to relieve innkeepers of liability from prosecution for sale of liquor to minors and of another measure which would have relieved police and firemen of liability in civil actions arising from traffic accidents which occur when they are performing their duties

The legislature overrode the governor's veto of an act giving county commissioners authority to abolish county welfare departments which they have created. It also overrode veto of an act classifying hospitalization of indigents as poor relief so relief funds may be used to pay such bills

Auditors Bill Passed

Approved and sent to the governor was an act which indirectly would provide new income sources for county auditors immediately It provided that fees be paid for handling of inheritance taxes at the rate of four cents per capita for the first 10,000 population and one cent per capita for all over 10,000 but with a limit of $1,500 a year.

The auditors were not mentioned in the bill which authorized the state tax commissioner to appoint agents in each county for inheritance tax collections on salaries based on population It was understood, however, that county auditors would be given the jobs until March 1, 1951, when new terms began for all auditors

Previously the governor allowed to become law without signature legislation hiking the salaries of elective officials and state legislators effective at the start of new terms.

Also in the closing sessions, the senate receded from its amendments, thus completing passage, of a house bill to pay expenses of appellate court judges while serving on the supreme court.

The senate also passed and sent to the governor a house-approved bill to require judges to give reasons for granting a new trial

Thousands Evacuated As Levees Break Anew

By The Associated Press

ST LOUIS, July 1—New levee breaks along a 90-mile stretch of the Mississippi river forced evacuation of additional thousands today as the rampaging river already at a 103-year peak, continued to rise from heavy overnight rains.

The town of Dupo, Ill, (pop. 2 600) eight miles south of here, was abandoned when the rising floodwaters breached a secondary levee on the Illinois Central railroad tracks about a mile behind the first levee which was abandoned during the night.

The water also bypassed the Missouri Pacific railroad embankment which saved Dupo in the last big flood of 1944.

The 600 residents of nearb East Carondelet and 800 in the surrounding area also were evacuated

Eighty miles to the south the river, broke the Degognia-Fountain Bluff levee in two spots driving approximately 600 persons from the villages of Gorham and Neunert, Ill

As a result of this break, floodwaters pouring down an inland valley threatened to isolate the town of Grand Tower, Ill, (pop 1 043)

Mayor Jesse Grammer estimated about one third of Grand Tower was in danger of being flooded but said he expected residents in the higher part of the town would be able to care for those forced from their homes.

June's Weather Capers Expensive

By The Associated Press

The weather cut climatic capers in June and dealt a damaging blow to much of the nation's crops and farm lands

Floods in a midwest area caused the heaviest loss in crops In addition thousands were forced to flee from their homes to escape the onrushing waters of swollen rivers and streams in Missouri, Iowa, Illinois, Nebraska and Kansas.

Summer was delayed in many sections of the country Temperatures dipped to new lows for the month and heavy rains delayed field work on farms; there were snow and hail storms and tornadoes

In the Rocky Mountain region the weather was a mixture of normal and freakish There was a blizzard in West Yellowstone June 20 and 21 killing three persons. Wyoming had its heaviest June snowfall in history, one June 11 and 12 with 8 3 inches, breaking the previous record of eight inches set June 1892.

Operators Object to Mt. Gilead and Marysville Proposal.

By International News Service

WASHINGTON, July 1—The AFL Commercial Telegraphers union today asked the federal communications commission to deny the application of Western Union for permission to abandon its offices in six Ohio communities.

Union Attorney Frank Bloom said in a brief filed with FCC that the company's petition was the forerunner of a plan to close some 3,000 offices throughout the country Bloom made no estimate of the number of telegraphers who would be unemployed as a result.

The attorney said Western Union proposed to withdraw from Bellefontaine, Delphos, Marysville, Lebanon, Ottawa and Mt Gilead under a contract whereby the local telephone company would act as the agent for Western Union.

Investigators To Make On-the-Spot Check at Shiloh.

By International News Service

SHELBY, O, July 1—Railroad, state and federal officials shifted their inquiry into a New York Central passenger train wreck that took six lives to the scene of the accident at nearby Shiloh today.

The train, the St. Louis special, was wrecked last Wednesday night at a crossover. All of those killed were railroad employes.

The inquiry by the railroad, the interstate commerce commission and the Ohio public utilities commission started yesterday in the Springfield office of L. H. Champ, Ohio division superintendent of the New York Central.

Employes of the railroad who were involved in the wreck and members of the railroad brotherhoods also are participating in the investigation.

When the on-the-scene investigation is completed, the probers will return to Springfield. The inquiry is expected to continue most of the week.

Missing Girl Found Alive

California 2-Year-Old, Lost Since Sunday, Located in Park Brush.

By The Associated Press

LASSEN NATIONAL PARK, Calif, July 1—Little Greta Mary Gale, missing since Sunday, was found alive today in brush of the rugged park area, a searching group informed the family.

The two and a half year old Greta—"Toni" to her family—dropped from sight Sunday while on a vacation camping trip.

Her grandfather, former U. S Congressman John H. Tolan, 70, died from a heart attack last night, apparently induced by the shock and excitement. He had been ill.

The little girl was found by Jim Gaither, the message to the family said. She was on a ridge, about a mile from the cabin.

Forest service men, sheriff's officers from three counties, lumberjacks and vacationers, numbering in all about 150, searched the area of numerous creeks yesterday. A sound truck asking for volunteers to join the search was sent to communities in this remote sector of northeastern California. Fifty men responded in Susanville alone, and persons close to search headquarters said the parties going out at dawn today would include about 350 searchers.

Hunting dogs trailed the little girl's footprints for a quarter of a mile yesterday, but the prints disappeared near some automobile tire tracks

Toni, described as "big for her age," is the daughter of assistant district attorney William Gale Jr, of Oakland and Adrienne May Kerr Gale, daughter of Congressman Tolan.

She had gone with Tolan and Mrs. Tolan for a vacation at Lee's Camp, the Gales joining the party last Friday.

FRENCH REVOLT CALLED NEAR

Underground Leader of Anti-Reds Says 25,000 Set To March on Paris.

By The Associated Press

PARIS, July 1 — A self-described leader of the "Black Maquis" said today in a clandestine interview that 25,000 armed men were ready to lead "a march on Paris at the appropriate moment" to establish an "anti-Communist" government.

Existence of the "Black Maquis" was disclosed yesterday by the interior ministry, which announced that it had arrested leaders of the movement for plotting to overthrow the republic and establish a "military dictatorship"

In today's interview the self-described "Black Maquis" boasted

"For every one of us they arrest there are two to take his place"

The anonymous source talked with a reporter for five minutes on a busy corner of the Champs Elysees before disappearing down a side street

Official's Son Implicated

He claimed that arrests were continuing and that "the son of an important government official" had been taken into custody this morning.

The plotters, he said, had "no direct organizational continuity" with the old Secret Committee of Revolutionary Action (CSAR), also known as the "cagoulards" or "hooded ones," who were arrested on charges of plotting to overthrow the pre-war popular front government.

The self-described leader said his organization was "passionately anti-German" and was drawn "in large part from members of the resistance" during the Nazi occupation

"Our sole object," he insisted, "is to prevent the possibility of a Communist menace to French democracy The democracy has made many mistakes, but it is up to the French people to decide their government."

The man conceded that "some members of the organizations may have been members of the CSAR at one time" but would not say whether he was one of them.

START ANNUAL CHECK OF TRAFFIC SAFETY

Cars To Be Examined When Stopped for Violations.

The annual traffic safety check sponsored by Ohio Association of Police and Ohio State Highway patrol opened today. Officials said that all cars, stopped for any reason will be checked for the various items which can endanger the safety of pedestrians or automobile passengers.

According to last year's check 20.7 per cent of 273,092 cars stopped and checked had driving defects.

The check will include inspection of brakes, windshield wipers, horn, tires, etc. Highway patrolmen here said that in this vicinity a regular traffic check, where all cars in a certain section are stopped for inspection, would not be conducted here, although such an inspection is now being held in the northern part of the state today by a member of the Marion patrol office.

ACT ON STATE AID INCREASE

New Contracts with 1947-48 Pay Figures Are Sent to Instructors.

Provision was made for salary increases totaling $121,600 for Marion teachers from funds to be received by the city schools as a result of legislation recently passed by the state legislature when the board of education met yesterday.

At the meeting the board voted to put into effect immediately a new salary schedule adopted last November, based on the amount of training of individual teachers. The schedule was to have gone into operation over a three-year period starting with the last school year. Passage of the school aid bill has provided sufficient funds to make the schedule effective immediately, school officials said.

In addition to pay adjustments which will make salaries correspond to the schedule, each teacher will, a few exceptions, will receive a flat increase of $400.

Range of Increases

Total increases of individual salaries range from a minimum of $3288 to a $963 maximum for teachers holding the same assignment as last year. Contracts for the coming school year under the new pay schedule have already been mailed to teachers

As a result of the board's action pay of teachers next year will range from $1,900 to $3,100. The added pay to meet the schedule and the flat increase above the schedule will result in an average increase of $600 per teacher

The estimated cost of putting the new salary schedule into effect is $38,000 An estimated $83,-800 will be needed to give the flat increase above the schedule When all increases are made, $3,106 will be left This amount will be used to provide payment for teachers who may be assigned to the city school system during the 1947-48 school year

If gross salaries during 1947-48 do not use up all the surplus it will be distributed to teachers at the end of the year City schools will receive a total of $166 305 from the state next year, of which 75 per cent must be used for teachers' salaries

The salary of E E Holt, superintendent of schools, was increased from $6,500 to $7,200 per year for the three-year period beginning Aug 1 this year

Salary Schedule

Following is the schedule which will go into effect at once

Years of experience	Salary
1	$1,500
2	1,600
3	1,700
4	1,800
5	1,900*
6	2,000
7	2,100
8	2,200
9	2,300
10	2,400
11	2,500
12	2,600
13	2,700*

* Maximum for teachers with two years college training.

 The maximum salary for teachers with three years of college training was changed from $1,900 to $2,200. For those teachers with less than three years of training, but with 20 years of experience, as of Sept. 1, 1946, the maximum was placed at $2,200.

 Maximum for bachelor's degree.

* This can be achieved only by those who hold a master's degree or by those who in the judgment of the board of education have completed a program of professional preparation which represents an equivalent amount of advanced study.

Additional for Principals

Recommended pay for principals over the regular schedule is:

School Unit	Annual Supplement
6-9 teacher elementary	$ 300
10-15 teacher elementary	500
Junior High School	750
Senior High School	1,250

Principals of junior and senior high schools will be allowed additions to their base pay for employment beyond the nine-month school years.

Resignation Accepted

Other actions taken by the board included acceptance of the resignation of Stuart C. Shipman, principal of Mark Street and Forest Lawn schools. Mr. Shipman has accepted a similar position in Indiana. The board also accepted the resignation of Miss Helen Burton, a teacher at Edison.

The board approved the transfer of Paul Shipman, principal at Glenwood school, to the principalship of the Mark Street and Forest Lawn schools, and the appointment

Ohio Liquor Probe Asked

Legislature Suggests Charges Made at Inquiry Are Grand Jury Matter.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O, July 1—Grand juries should look into "serious charges" made by witnesses before the state senate committee which investigated Ohio's liquor department, committeemen said last night.

The committee reported that certain persons, whom it did not name, "by their silence have invited a grand jury investigation" and that such an investigation should be started promptly

The committee, which passed out of existence with sine die adjournment of the legislature last night, quoted that 'none of the persons concerning whom these serious charges were made asked or offered to appear before the committee to explain or deny the charges contained in the partial report'

Decline To Testify

Some persons declined to testify on the ground they would have been granted immunity from possible prosecution and testifying would have implied they were doing it as a means of escape from such prosecution.

However, the legislature enacted a law allowing committee witnesses to waive immunity, and despite this none of the persons against whom the charges were made volunteered to come before the committee, the senators' reported.

Quoting from its partial report made on April 24, the committee said

"When a situation is developed where the dishonest may be granted permits while the application of the honest applicant remains untouched in the file, a shakedown may flourish to the disgrace of the department. • • •

"Charges have been made before the committee that the department has failed to refer to the board of liquor control for consideration permittees who flagrantly violate the liquor laws and regulations of the board." • • •

14 Nazis Indicted On War Crimes Charges

By The Associated Press

NUERNBERG, uly 1—Fourteen Germans were indicted today for trial by a United States war crimes court on charges that they systematically exterminated and enslaved millions of non-Aryans in a vast Hitlerian scheme to establish Nazi racial supremacy.

Thirteen of the accused were officers in the S.S, Hitler's elite guard, and thus were also accused of being members of a criminal organization.

All were allegedly connected with four organizations which the indictment accused of cooperation in "a systematic program of genocide, aimed at the destruction of foreign nationals and ethnic groups and in part by elimination and suppression of national characteristics."

Three Ashley Children in Tree Injured by Electric Current

Special to The Star

ASHLEY, July 1—Shock from contact with a high tension electric wire was suffered by three Ashley children five to 10 years of age yesterday afternoon, and severe burns were suffered by one of the three who was in direct contact with the wire.

Beverly Murray, 7, daughter of Mr and Mrs. Willis Murray, and playmates, Dickie Wigton, 5, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Wigton, and Lois Murray, 10, sister of Beverly, suffered the shock and burns when they were climbing a maple tree, through which the electric wire passes, in the Murray yard The home is located near the east corporation limit of town Following successful climb and descent of the tree by another companion, Harold Martin, 6, the other children decided to climb the tree together.

Beverly, who was first up, was followed by Dickie and Lois. She evidently grasped the wire with the thumb and index finger of her left hand. Dickie, who had grasped Beverly and Lois who had touched the boy, suffered the effects of the shock in turn. Screams of the first child brought her mother but Mrs. Murray was not able to reach the little girl. The other children had descended, but Lois again climbed the tree to bring her sister down.

The younger girl's burns include those of her left thumb and next finger, flesh of which was scorched black, and burns of her right ear, literally "cooked" and swollen to twice its normal size, right shoulder, and area around her right eye. The other children suffered small burns. It is thought that wherever their bodies touched the tree, burns resulted. They were treated in the office of an Ashley physician, who said today he was not yet able to determine if the burns on Beverly's hand extend to the tendons of the hand.

A phenomenon of the accident was that on the little girl's burned shoulder each tiny nerve end is said to be distinctly marked in red.

WASHINGTON, July 1 — Soft coal operators, in full possession of their mines for the first time in more than a year, looked to the government today to revive contract talks with John L. Lewis in time to avert a new strike July 8.

As the operators gathered for what they hoped would be a week of head-to-head talks with Lewis' United Mine Workers, they declined to confirm reports that the big northern group had offered to meet the miners' full wage demands.

Old Soldiers Won't Know Army If War Department Has Way

By ELTON F. FAY
(For James Marlow)
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON, July 1—The war department wants a new army.

It has assembled a bundle of plans and projects which, if all carried out, will drastically alter the appearance of the military establishment which fought in World War II—its men, its fighting units, its weapons.

Here are some of the changes:

Promotion through the ranks by competitive examination instead of by edict of a commanding officer (and some commanding officers may not like the top kick sergeants they get).

Yard Bird To 4-Star

This "career plan," which also includes provisions for specialized education and a chance for trying for officers' training, will make possible—in theory, at least—for a GI to finish up as private as easily as a four-star general.

(A bill to do this has just cleared its first hurdle in congress with house passage last week. The senate may or may not act before adjournment next month).

Eventually (a June 30, 1948 deadline now has been moved to 1949), both officers and men will be ordered to wear identical uniforms. Battle jackets and trousers will be of the same olive drab with difference in rank indicated only by insignia. Gone will be the "pinks" trousers and unmatching blouses of the officers.

The army lets it be known it will do something about the enlisted man's food, too. It has received a critique on army chow methods, the report prepared by a civilian committee of restaurant experts who claim to know how and what to cook.

Foxholes won't be out of the army housing picture unless another war comes.

The GI of World War I walked to battle; in World War II he rode in trucks; if there is a World War III he will fly. The idea is to make all infantry units "air transportable."

Souped Up Infantry

Infantry and armored divisions are being "souped up" in size, firepower and shock action.

Eventually the infantry division will number about 18,000 men, more than 3,000 greater than the divisional strength in World War II. The division will have more tanks, more artillery, more anti-aircraft gun protection.

The armored division, when in the last war, operated at an authorized strength of 10,000, will have 15,000 men.

New modes of warfare have pushed some historic elements of the army out of the picture. Horse cavalry is gone, replaced by armored cavalry. The fixed seacoast artillery defenses are being abandoned in favor of highly mobile artillery units, some of them to be rocket-firing outfits.

NEW NAVY RECRUITER ASSIGNED TO MARION

Will Be In Postoffice Building Each Monday.

A new naval recruiting office opened Monday in the basement of the Marion postoffice. The office will be open every Monday from 9 a. m. to 4 p. m. with Walter C. Miloseivich, chief gunner's mate, U.S.N., in charge.

An opportunity is open now for men with mathematical and scientific backgrounds to enlist in the field of electronics, Miloseivich announced. Men passing the test for electronics are sent to school for 42 weeks.

The office is open for all enlistments in the regular Navy, and also for information on the Naval Reserve. Men 17 to 31 now can enlist for three, four or six years. A new ruling went into effect recently allowing persons 17 to enlist, but these must have parents' consent. The consent of the parents is not needed for persons above that age.

Miloseivich has been in the navy 11 years, with duty in the European, American, and South Pacific theaters and also in the Philippine Islands and China. He is working here out of the Mansfield Recruiting Station office. His home town is St. Louis, Mo.

Howard W. Curtis, boatswain's mate 1/c, U.S.N.R., who has been in charge of a Naval Reserve office here in the county sheriff's office for the last three months, is returning to the Mansfield office.

Dry cleaning establishments are also closed to permit workers a week's vacation this week.

Bucyrus Teachers Get New Contracts

Special to The Star

BUCYRUS, July 1—Efforts of Bucyrus school teachers which have been directed toward pay increases during the last two years were rewarded today when contracts carrying approximately $200 in pay raises for each teacher were in the hands of the Bucyrus teaching staff.

The pay raises were made possible through the passage of the Daniels-Cramer school bill in the state legislature this month which permitted the school board to adopt a new salary schedule.

The new schedules established minimum pay for teachers with four years college training and no experience at $2,000. Teachers with two years training will start at $1,700 and the salary is graduated upward to $3,150 for teachers with five years training and 20 years experience.

BUCYRUS MAN RETIRES

BUCYRUS, July 1 — Herman Neumann, New York Central carman repairman, retired this week after nearly 40 years of service with the company in Bucyrus and Columbus. Mr. Neumann has no plans for the immediate future.

A seven-level, earthquake-resistant mausoleum containing enough concrete to build a 60-story skyscraper.

Forest Lawn is a marble index to the film industry, a kind of "Who Was Who" of the entertainment world. Here lie Marie Dressler, Flo Ziegfeld, John Gilbert, Edna May Oliver, Lon Chaney, Russ Columbo, Tom Mix, Wallace Reid, Charles Ray, Ruth Roland, Chic Sale, Ben Turpin and scores of others.

Jean Harlow There

Jean Harlow is there in platinum silence behind a marble slab that says "Our Baby" and bears lipstick from her mother's kiss. Carole Lombard still gets two fresh flowers each day, and her nearest neighbor is her mother. The crypt on her other side is empty.

Buried there also are the designer of the Golden Gate bridge, the man who invented push-back theater seats, the author of "The Wizard of Oz," a doctor who delivered 7,000 babies, a pathologist who performed 30,000 autopsies, and the man who introduced table tennis into America.

The cemetery has had 106,000 interments and 16,000 weddings—226 in June alone. Its permanent tenants before the present boom period began outnumbered the living population of Glendale.

"We'll be out of space in another twenty years," said a representative, "and we're planning to establish another Forest Lawn, patterned after this but one and a half times as big, overlooking San Fernando Valley.

Forest Lawn has a flower shop, three churches, an advertising manager and two publicity men. You can be christened, married, cremated or buried there. You can also go there to pray, buy a life insurance policy or listen to an art lecture. One minister was ordained in the cemetery.

The advertising slogan of Forest Lawn: "Everything in one place."

WHAT CAN, CAN'T BE DONE IN RENT LAW

By International News Service

WASHINGTON, July 1—Here, in question and answer form, are the things tenants and landlords cannot do under the rent control law signed by President Truman:

Q. Can a landlord demand an immediate rent increase?

A. No. The bill provides only that increases agreed upon by landlord and tenant and not exceeding 15 per cent. Such agreements can be made before next Dec. 31 and the tenant in turn will get a lease, protecting him from any further increase, until Dec. 31, 1948.

Q. What is the advantage to the tenant in such an arrangement?

A. He is protected against the possibility that rents may rise more than 15 per cent after controls expire next Feb. 29.

Q. Can a landlord bring eviction proceedings merely because a tenant refuses to agree to an increase now?

A. No.

Q. What recourse has a landlord who feels that he is entitled to a higher rental?

A. He can appeal to his local rents advisory board.

Q. Does the new bill specify a "base period" on which rents under federal regulation will be determined?

A. Except where "voluntary" agreements are made, rents cannot be raised from the level of the date on which the bill becomes law.

Q. What can a tenant do when he feels his rent is being increased without proper authority?

A. He can sue for treble damages and ask the national housing expediter to seek a court injunction to stop the increase.

Utilities Supervisor Retires At Sycamore

Special to The Star

SYCAMORE, July 1 — Independence Day comes early for one Sycamore resident this year. After today John Hardinger will listen no more to complaints about the water and electrical service in the town, for he has retired after nearly a third of a century as superintendent of the electric and water plant of the village. Although he has had days off he has never had a real vacation in all those years.

What's he going to do? "As I please," for a least a few weeks. His first desire is to go to Northport, Wash., where he once lived, and visit in the home of a man who learned the electrical trade under him way back in 1902. This trip will be made by automobile with his wife and son John Jr. very soon. As Mr. Hardinger celebrated his seventy-sixth birthday in May it has been necessary for the past several years for the Sycamore board of public affairs to get permission from the state public utilities commission to keep him on the payroll.

Under his supervision the plant has been changed from gas to all electrical equipment and a water filter and softener has been added.

Mr. Hardinger has been engaged in some kind of electrical work for more than half a century. He served the East Cleveland Street Railway Co., had charge of the telephones at Camp Sheridan during his stay in the army, and in Northport, Wash., worked for the Northport Smelting and Refining Co. He came to Sycamore in 1904 and ran a machine shop and garage until he assumed his duties in the water works in 1917.

His hobby is puttering around his home workshop. Mr. and Mrs. Hardinger are parents of three children, Mrs. Cyrus Madeley of Detroit, Mrs. William Myers of Toledo and John Junior, a student at Ohio State university.

John Lorah, veteran of World War II, has been named superintendent to succeed Mr. Hardinger.

No Patchwork

GOVERNOR HERBERT'S veto of the Van Aken management-labor bill was a wise move.

The purpose of the bill was to give Ohio a combined Taft-Hartley and Wagner act, to do for labor and management in intrastate commerce what these two acts do in interstate commerce. But the bill missed fire.

It was such a bad bill in its original form that it was rewritten drastically in the closing hours of the general assembly. The rewriting left many loopholes and shortcomings, as pointed out in the governor's veto message.

The worst thing that could happen would be a half-baked law governing management-labor relations. It would give a black eye to those who honestly feel the need of legislation. It would give the unions that oppose such a law a chance to crow—something they don't need.

Ohio should have a counterpart of the Taft-Hartley act, but when the job's done it should be done right. The unions should have no chance to cry that they were denied a fair hearing. The bill should be drafted methodically, reasonably and only after full consultation.

Governor Herbert has made it plain he agrees with the intent of the Van Aken bill. He agrees with the Taft-Hartley act. His veto of the Van Aken bill was done with the advice of Senator Taft himself, he explains. There is no point in saddling labor-management relations with a bill that would have to be done over because it was patchwork in the first place.

The governor hasn't surrendered to the labor unions. He knows that anyone who will take the trouble to study the bill will be able to see the same loopholes and ambiguities that he has seen; that they will agree with him that a bad law would be worse than no law at all.

The Van Aken bill wouldn't have been a good law. Governor Herbert's veto should be appreciated most by those who are most anxious for a clarification of labor-management relations. He has saved them from having a severe headache over a bad piece of legislation.

That's That

UNIVERSAL military training has been denounced by Senator Taft as "un-American, wasteful and obsolete," which gives the coup de grace to any hope for it at this time. Some very impressive opposing opinions have been expressed by persons who couldn't by any stretch of the imagination be called militarists, but their ideas, under the circumstances, don't carry as much weight as those of Senator Taft. He is chairman of the senate majority policy committee and hardly would have made such a statement without consultation.

As one of the leaders of the fight against prewar selective service, Senator Taft is experienced in arguing against compulsory training. "The army," he says, "wants boys for 12 months consecutively because it wants to change their habits of thought, to make them soldiers, if you please."

The senator must know some young veterans of World War II. Has the army affected their ways of thought, changed them into militarists, if you please? If it has the senator has met up with some rare young veterans.

Senator Taft might consent to a plan whereby some 200,000 young volunteers would receive summer training, similar to the prewar citizens military training camps. But he doubts whether military life improves the morals, discipline or health of American youth and questions the necessity of a manpower reserve.

In the final analysis, compulsory military training must be considered in the light of one question: Is it necessary? Senator Taft says no, and that's that. Let us hope it was a decision well taken, for it is one of the most momentous ones a man in his position can make in these times. We believe Senator Taft is wrong and we believe events will prove him wrong as they did in 1941.

The Grand Tour Hits a Snag

SENORA EVA DUARTE PERON, Argentina's ambassador without portfolio, has been greeted with insulting placards and attendant disturbances in Italy. This follows her triumphal tour of Spain, with pomp and ostentation the like of which hasn't been seen since the heyday of the Hitler-Mussolini mutual admiration society.

Chances are that the pleasant part of Senora Peron's tour is over. Left-of-center France isn't likely to be a cordial host and Britain's Laborites will be civil, but that's all. Aside from Spain, Portugal and some of the Latin American countries, no nation would roll out the plush carpet for Senora Peron. Her hats may be of the latest mode but not her politics.

News Behind the News

By PAUL MALLON

Recession Forecast Not Regarded as Sound.

WASHINGTON, July 1—The mourning doves are booing current developments and predicting a depression for the last half of this year and the first half of 1948. A contraction of spending coupled with a union campaign against the new labor reform law will hinder both the distribution of goods and their production, say those who always like the bemoaning side of every argument. Continuance of oppressive wartime taxes will hold down the acceleration of money circulation and profits as well, they add. Our obligations for foreign aid will squeeze us tighter yet, they conclude. The pessimists thus are nearly monopolizing the business prediction news with doleful notes.

These hasty, surface calculations should not prove true. Fundamental, underlying factors in all the situations are working against these obvious currents.

Seek Stability

While the union leaders are loudly threatening political holocausts, they are actually making two-year contracts to continue the existing wage-price level. The New York area heavy construction industry signed a 2½ year contract freezing wages and working conditions a few days back. This follows the bellwether agreements in motors, steel and electrical industries which freeze the status quo for the next two years. These agreements were followed by warnings of top union officials like Phil Murray against strikes during the contract period.

So while the unions are belligerent in the political field, they are seeking stability at this current economic level in the working field. While they do not mind fighting, they do not intend to lose much work doing it this time—apparently.

Business Careful

While corporation officials are issuing hesitant statements or mostly saying nothing, they are quite obviously making business commitments to see if they cannot make a profit at this level. Nowhere do I see or hear genuine commercial discouragement. As one national corporation executive says: "We are not saying anything because we believe we are entering an untried experimental economic era in which good management may be able to make good money. Statements mean nothing anyway. We are trying."

Wariness in consumer buying may prove to be the major problem rather than union politics. Some metropolitan summer resort reservations are off 25 per cent from last year. Many people are deliberately holding to their old cars, presumably awaiting evidence that both the management and unions have settled down to serious production business. The sellers' market is coming to an end. Selling will no doubt become the most serious future problem. (The various government and other statistics on national income, for instance those mentioned by Mr. Truman in his tax veto, are not conclusive because the value of dollars has diminished incalculably.)

An unattached financial man who made a private investigation of the stock market for the administration reported it was not likely to do anything sensational before Labor day. He thought fluctuations would tend toward the up-side gradually, but would depend on the prospects for profits in the various corporations.

Farm Situation Firm

Nor is there the slightest symptom of depression in the farm situation. A special survey was made for one of the national trade organizations by its agricultural bureau, and this report predicted farm prices would remain strong and might increase slightly. Farm purchasing power, it added, would be high for the remainder of this year.

Since January, the quieter and better business prophets (those not swinging axes for either commercial cutting or grinding) have been saying that as soon as the Republican program was enacted, things would be better. A substantial part of the program failed when Mr. Truman blocked tax reduction. These prophets now say the lack of this added public purchasing power should make little immediate difference and may be remedied next year. They would like to use buckshot on the popular mourning doves.

The Stand-in At Last
A Finished Musician?

The supreme court has upheld the constitutionality of the Lea act, outlawing the practice of forcing radio stations to hire stand-in musicians.

That's the biggest news in labor circles since a couple of carpenters named Taft and Hartley put a swinging door on the closed shop.

It is also a significant development musically, signaling the passing of the eight-man quartet.

Before enactment of the Lea act, it took a stand-in as well as a search warrant to get Richard to open the door. Canaries were sold in pairs, one to perform, the other to pad the payroll. Plumbing supply houses were designing bigger tubs to accommodate the stand-ins of citizens given to singing in their baths.

Even composers were catering to the trend . . . . as witness last year's favorite: "Concerto for Flute and Featherbed."

Yes sir, one knew the trend musically was to less brass . . . . but who thought to see the day they'd soft-pedal Petrillo?

Marshall's Golden Apple

By RAYMOND MOLEY

MOLOTOV didn't bring 89 people to Paris to help him say "No." As we know, he can do that alone. The reported size of the Russian group of economists, foreign services men, military officers and whatnot is encouraging. Molotov is in Paris to do business—for Russia, of course, but business.

The outcome of the Paris negotiations is not hard to predict. A bill of particulars will be prepared which will stagger the imagination. Europe knows how to exaggerate its needs and to find plausible arguments therefor.

At Bretton Woods, the first idea considered was an international fund of $4,000,000,000. Then the amount of this fund was upped to $8,000,000,000, after which came the International Bank, to which was assigned $8,000,000,000 more. Of this total of $16,000,000,000, the United States was pledged to contribute $6,000,000,000. The Britain came to us for $3,750,000,000; France for $1,000,000,000, and so on.

Big talk in the United States is not going to go unheard at this conference. Benjamin V. Cohen, counsellor to the state department, in one of his very rare public utterances, has said that we should contribute five to six billion a year for some years. Henry Wallace says 50 in all.

Agreement

Does anyone expect Europe to violate continental tradition by asking less than the most generous American has mentioned? If Messrs. Truman and Marshall had pondered many months, they could have found no better way of finding one thing upon which Europe could agree. It can vote with thundering unanimity on its dire need.

Funds will be sought for the outfitting of fuel production, for railroad equipment of all kinds, for agricultural implements, for seeds, fertilizers and food. But we should not over-anticipate what Europe can offer as payments in goods.

The big arguments in Paris will not concern amounts, but apportionments. In that respect, agreement will not be easy. Each nation will strive to increase its relative share. The Marshall idea was exceedingly astute. He tossed the golden apple among the guests. For once, we are not party to what happens.

The statesmen at Paris will no doubt resolve the issue by putting all claims high enough to afford appeasement all around.

It is not to be imagined that Russia will not appear with a monumental request. The Soviet government has a chance now to approach the United States in company with all other nations and to lay the basis for some sort of bridge over the chasm which yawns between the two countries.

Counting Our Marbles

After Europe has resolved the problem of apportioning the needs among the nations, the United States will have a greatly simplified problem. Reduction of claims can be made on a horizontal basis. Gifts and loans can be made on a scale of relativity. The total amount which will be asked can be squared with what the United States can afford. And by that time, it is to be hoped that the President's various committees and Messrs. Hoover and Baruch will have provided us with an estimate of what we can safely spare to assure the stabilization of Europe. For the moment, therefore, we can sit quietly at home and count our marbles.

Cat Is Not Green About Green Lights

By The Associated Press

BALTIMORE—A tortoise-shell colored alley cat, taking none of its nine lives for granted, gave some 50 astonished pedestrians a lesson on how to keep healthy.

The crowd stared when the cat waited on the north corner of a downtown intersection until the traffic light turned green, then marched over to the northwest corner.

Once more waiting until the light changed, tabby stepped off the curb just as a car approached and retreated to the sidewalk to see if the auto would stop. It did, and the cat strode across to the northwest corner.

"If human beings crossed as that cat did, there wouldn't be any fatalities from jaywalking," a policeman commented.

THE OLD GIFT HORSE AGAIN

From News of Other Years

TEN YEARS AGO

It was Thursday, July 1, 1937.

An American arctic expedition, which planned to parallel work of the Russians at the North Pole and pay them a visit in an autogyro, was rushing final preparations for the northward journey. Aboard the three-masted schooner were as ice cream freezer, washing machine and driving mats for golfers.

Fifty Marion Girl Scouts ended their stay in the Abigail Harding Lewis camp in Vernon Heights with an all-day program. The camp was under the direction of Miss Marguerite Hill.

What was believed to be a record low temperature for July 1 at Marysville was recorded when the government thermometer at the water plant dropped to 51 degrees.

Members of the Marion Circle, Child Conservation League, closed the season with a meeting at the home of Mrs. Katherine Dennig-Smith on Bellefontaine avenue.

Betty Neff and Dorothy Foos were enrolled as members of the Grand Prairie Nimble Thimble 4-H club at the home of Vivian Hite north of Marion.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

It was Friday, July 1, 1927.

Seven more deaths from drowning and heat prostrations were reported in Ohio's first heat wave of the summer, bringing the total deaths to 16 in the state. The temperature in Marion continued above 90 with predictions that showers would break the hot spell on Saturday.

The Red Cross swimming and life saving course to be conducted for two months at Crystal Lake park opened under the direction of John Houghton.

Mrs. J. W. Jolley gave a dinner at her home on South Seffner avenue complimenting Mrs. Loretta Tilton, whose marriage was to take place later in July.

R. P. Murphy and family of South Prospect street went to Cedar Point to attend the Knights of Columbus convention.

The Knights of Pythias softball team defeated the Marion Steam Shovel office team 5 and 4 and the Stars were victorious over the Kappas 7 to 6 in Commercial leagues games. Smallwood pitched for the K. of P's., Bush for the Shovel, Rank for the Kappas and Kerr for the Stars.

John J. Ryan, 58, died at his home on Silver street.

The Voice Is Heard

By JOSEPH and STEWART ALSOP

WASHINGTON, July 1—Secretary of State George C. Marshall took an extraordinary step recently. The senate appropriations committee had already made formal recommendation to the senate on the state department's radio propaganda program, "The Voice of America." But Marshall refused to take this recommendation as final. Instead, he telephoned to committee chairman Styles Bridges and asked for a closed session discussion of the matter. The session was heated. But what is chiefly interesting about Marshall's unusual step in thus going "out of channels" is that it indicates, first, the very great importance which Marshall attaches to the radio program, and second, the serious imperfections which still exist in the machinery for bi-partisan co-operation on foreign policy.

One reason why Marshall, together with other top state policy makers, is solidly behind "The Voice of America" program, is simply that it is working. Moreover, it is working precisely where it is important that it should work—in the Soviet Union's satellite states and in the Soviet Union itself.

No Definite Gauge

Naturally no Hooper rating of audience reaction in the Soviet Union is available. Inevitably intelligence estimates of how well the program is succeeding in the Russian-held areas must be based on snippets and snatches of information. But these snippets add up to solid reasons for believing that the program is widely heard as far east as the Caucusus and Volga river areas.

Some of these straws in the wind are amusing. For example, at the appropriate hour, a Russian moppet has regularly been heard summoning her father, a high official in the Soviet government, with the cry, "Come in the house, daddy, the American program is starting."

Others are surprising. A traveler in the more distant reaches of eastern European Russia recently had an astonishing conversation with a collective farmer. The man remarked quite casually that in his district listening groups had been organized to hear "The Voice of America" and the equivalent program of the British Broadcasting Company. He volunteered, moreover, the information that there were about 75 radios in the area capable of receiving the programs, and that the listening groups were large and enthusiastic.

In Moscow, the American program is discussed quite openly. Most excitement has been caused by Benny Goodman's jazz programs and by the broadcast of the full texts of the note of protest on Hungary and of Truman's speech on Greece and Turkey. These last, in the words of one observer, "kicked up a lot of dust," when they were broadcast. This sending of straight political news, the only technique for reaching through the curtain of censorship in the Soviet-dominated countries, is of course the heart of the program. Ambassador to Russia Bedell Smith has repeatedly emphasized that the program is both effective and essential. And Burton Y. Berry, American chief of mission in Rumania, remarked recently that there "the people listen to their priests on Sunday and to 'The Voice of America' every other day of the week."

The final accolade has come from the Russians themselves. Such Kremlin trained seals as Ilya Ehrenburg have attacked the program ferociously on the Soviet press and radio. Russian radio comics and the humorous magazine "Krokodil" have directed ponderous shafts of satire against it. This was not only served as invaluable publicity for the program, but it has also indicated the grave importance which the rulers in the Kremlin attach to it.

In view of all this, it seems flatly incredible that the senators should wish so to hamstring the program that it would become dependent on translated rebroadcasts of Broadway gossip commentators. The saving involved is only three million dollars, surely not enough to wreck the economy program. The fact is that the senatorial attitude toward the bill transcends in importance the matter of American propaganda abroad. It involves the whole mechanism of the bi-partisan foreign policy.

Poor Rating in Senate

For the senators are not so much motivated by desire for economy as by a long-standing dislike for the man to whom the direction of the American foreign propaganda effort is intrusted. Perhaps through no fault of his own, William Benton, chief of the office of information and cultural affairs, has, like his former partner, Chester Bowles, an absolutely devastating effect on congressmen. Senatorial hackles rise at the mere sight of Benton at a considerable distance. One senate committee last night went so far as to inform former Secretary of State James F. Byrnes, while Benton was sitting in the room, that the senate had no confidence in Benton. Benton has thus known for a year that his presence as chief of the American propaganda effort has necessarily compromised real support on the Hill for that effort.

It is plain that in the areas of national defense and foreign policy something close to the parliamentary system is being developed here. Under these circumstances, if the Hill clearly indicates lack of confidence in a policy-making officer, that officer would seem to have little choice but to reach for his hat. There is good reason to believe that Secretary Marshall would not be heartbroken if Benton resigned, but Marshall is naturally reluctant to force Benton's resignation while he is under attack. It is also likely that Benton will leave as soon as the issue is settled in congress. But the whole matter raises a larger problem. For it is plain that if the great task in Europe which Secretary Marshall has initiated is to succeed, a really determined effort must be made to strengthen the imperfect liaison between the state department and Capitol Hill.

The Once Over

Letters for Special Delivery

MR. NILES TRAMMELL,
Radio City, N. Y.

DEAR SIR:

I see by the papers that you have appeared in Washington opposing a bill concerning the rights of radio, which is okay. What caught my eye was a reported statement by you that all the freedom given to the press should be given in toto to the mike, "as there is no difference." Well, I am a friend of the mike and I like it without chains or handcuffs, but there is all the difference in the world between newspapers and the radio.

• • •

If there is no difference between a newspaper and a radio station, then there is no difference between a book and a vaudeville act, a school and a musical show, a watchdog and the monkey-house.

• • •

The American press, despite its critics, has tradition, judgment, training, background, poise and restraint on its side. With few exceptions it has a deep sense of responsibility. Down through most of its history it has been careful of such things as facts, tolerance, fair play, patience and respect for another man's opinions. Above all it has realized that it constituted a powerful weapon which, when employed half-cocked, hastily or for circus affects would do the community ill service.

• • •

Now, Mr. Trammell, in its present state of development, the radio as a news medium can be pretty careless about these things in its worship of Hooper ratings, applause, fan mail and sensational showmanship.

• • •

A man hit by an unfair dig by a Chillicothe newspaper may hear about it from only a few people; but made a target on the radio he is tagged in millions of homes all over the land. If the Blythedale Gazette foolishly goes overboard for a screwball ideology its best hope is that a few local boys may fall for it, but the same concept preached over the radio can mesmerize a nation, upset a government and even bring on a war. Remember Germany and Italy, mister?

• • •

There are few things that call for control like the radio. It built up Hitler and Mussolini, it sustained the Nazis and Fascists, it drove a couple of nations nuts, it brought on a global shindig and it darned near ruined the world, if you will excuse the understatement.

• • •

No chain of newspapers could, in 100 years, stir up the simple-minded as completely as the radio did in 10 broadcasts over in Europe. The wrong slant taken by a newspaper causes minor trouble, but the wrong slant on a radio can scuttle a civilization.

• • •

Radio is now about to bring out a radio newspaper, it seems, and it wants to be a handmaiden of the press, Heaven forbid. It makes me creepy already. Great editors, trained reporters and expert blue pencil boys keep the press on an even keel. It can't be done by program arrangers, flocks of commentators who insist on the right to shoot the works, and a general policy of hot news items among the soap flake commercials.

• • •

Take a little less freedom than the press, please, Mr. Trammell. It will be better for everybody.

Yours,
ELMER.

• • •

ASCAP, the society of songwriters, has been sued by the department of justice as a great big bad cartel, monopolizing music. The department throws not only the book at it, but the lyrics.

• • •

On the other hand it may be that in the suit against ASCAP Attorney General Clark is just trying to get on the Hit Parade.

With General Eisenhower as President of Columbia the question up there will of course be "How is your Ike Q?"

Truth Will Raise Hair

By TRUMAN TWILL

Hair-raising stories about the ferocity of mosquitoes this year are being told, but truth always raises more hair than fiction. If the tale-tellers will desist for a (drat that mosquito) minute we'll tell about some (there, got 'im) things that have really (hold still a minute) happened (wham.)"

Friends of ours in a section where the mosquitoes are especially bad have tried everything that's guaranteed to kill the pests, with no results. Dead mosquitoes are ankle-deep all over the place, but for every one that falls two more are waiting to carry on.

These people haven't been able to do anything outside this summer because the mosquitoes pestered them, but recently had the happy idea—on an evening that was chilly—of wearing heavy windbreakers while working in the garden. For a short time, this baffled the mosquitoes—but not for long.

Someone heard a noise on the other side of a hedge and looked over. The mosquitoes were lined up thousands deep while mechanics bolted extenders on their little proboscises. With the extenders, the pests could bore through the heavy clothing and reach bare skin. Our friends chided us for laughing when we were told about this—said it was one of the most frightening pieces of insect devilry they ever heard of.

A man named Andrews—Philip Andrews—had a harrowing experience at the site of a hospital addition in course of construction. Mosquitoes had been drilling on him until he was ready to lose his mind. He went inside to inspect the special lead-sheathed room for the hospital's radio-active equipment and made the mistake of closing the door.

This maddened the insects, which started to drill through the lead-sheathing. Andrews was sore enough—and hysterical enough—by that time to seize a three-foot length of studding and bend over their proboscises as they came bursting through the lead plates. Working like a madman, he bent over more than a thousand in what seemed like an eternity, but probably wasn't more than 10 minutes. The fire department finally rescued him. What the hospital is going to do is problematic—probably have to do the whole job over unless they can plug up all those holes.

We've always liked the story about the joker who fooled the mosquitoes with pink ladies. Went to the trouble of filling a flesh-colored rubber glove with pink ladies (gin, grenadine, etc.) and letting this contraption hang out the sleeve of his coat. He had his real hand pulled up out of sight. The mosquitoes went through the rubber glove like needles through cheese and lapped up the pink ladies. The fellow said it was a circus to watch them fill up with the red stuff until, one by one, they gave little hiccups and fell over in a stupor.

What comes next is the payoff. He didn't kill them, but turned them loose. Figured when they sobered up they'd be as good as reformers and tell the other mosquitoes to stop before it was too late, except it didn't work that way. He just got more mosquitoes.

The death penalty is imposed in about two out of every 100 murder cases in the United States.

Social Affairs

MISS CAROLYN KING, a bride-elect of late summer, was an honor guest when Mrs. T. E. Sonnanstine, Mrs. Delmar Hamilton, Mrs. Ray Gatewood and Mrs. Carl Leffler entertained last evening. The party was the first of a number of social affairs to be given for her during the next few weeks and was a tea at Ringer's inn. Guests, friends of the bride-elect, and their mothers, brought gifts for her kitchen. Miss King and her fiance, Henry Bloss Vail of Chicago, have chosen Saturday, Aug. 2, for their wedding.

Decorations were in keeping with the shower theme and were in red and white. Gingham bows in these colors were used on the tables and the bride-elect's table held a white teapot filled with geraniums and ivy. Favors were bright red plastic scoops, funnels and similar kitchen articles. Flowers were throughout the rooms and the colorfully wrapped shower gifts were presented to Miss King from a cart decorated with bows of red and white gingham, by Susan Courtright. The guests also brought their favorite recipe which was placed in a file for the bride-to-be.

Guests from out of the city included Mrs. Edwin C. Dee and daughter, Sally of Bellefontaine, Mrs. James Williams of Cleveland, Mrs. Fred Rankin and daughter, Nancy of Akron, Mrs. Walter Moyle of Columbus and Mrs. Milks of Springfield.

A special meeting of Eta and Delta chapters of Beta Sigma Phi sorority was held Thursday night at the home of Miss Mary Clark on Pearl street, with Miss Betty Jenkins serving as assistant hostess. The meeting was called to make plans for the organizing of a chapter at Upper Sandusky. Miss Margaret Newman is in charge of the plans.

The wedding of Miss Marian Roberts and August R. Bender will take place Sunday, July 6, in the First Evangelical United Brethren church at 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon. It was erroneously stated in an account of a party given for the bride-elect the ceremony would be held in Emanuel Lutheran church.

A custom which they initiated last year, a reunion for servicemen of World War II, was observed again Saturday night when Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stephenson of 412 Avondale avenue entertained 22 men there and later at Greenwood Inn with a dinner. Remaining as weekend guests at the Stephenson home were Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Allender and son John, William Knowles and Miss Gail Lehyre, all of Bridgeville, Pa., and Mrs. George Adams Jr. and Mr. and Mrs. David Taylor, all of Elyria. Others present were Marion servicemen.

Rites for Auto Crash Victim in Kentucky

Funeral arrangements for Arlie Howard, killed in an automobile accident west of Marion early Sunday, will be made at Pineville, Ky., after arrival of the body, which was sent there last night from the M. H. Gunder and Sons funeral home on West Center street. The Durham funeral home at Pineville will be in charge. Mr. Howard's home was near Pineville. In Marion three weeks, he was working as a welder at the Marion Power Shovel Co. plant and roomed at a Silver street residence.

Benbow-Smithson Nuptials Held at Church In Salem

Special to The Star

GALION, July 1—Open church was observed Sunday afternoon when marriage vows were repeated between Barbara Joan Benbow, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Benbow of Galion, and James J. Smithson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Smithson of Edison, at Peace Lutheran church. The double ring ceremony was read by Rev. Philip E. Auer, pastor of the church. John Edward Trautman ignited the candles. A program of organ and vocal music was presented by Miss Dorothy Black, organist of First Methodist church, and Mrs. Walter Goshorn, vocalist.

Ushers were the bride's brothers, George and James Benbow, a cousin of the bridegroom, Robert Sullivan of Marion, and James Burgess of Marion. Her father gave the bride in marriage. Mrs. Edward Vetula of Columbus was her sister's matron of honor. The bridesmaids were Miss Adair Dortsch and Miss Janet Robinson of Galion, and the flower girl was Claire Goshorn of Galion. Jimmy Tuttle was the ring bearer.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at Hotel Talbot for 100 guests. Friends of the bride who assisted in serving were Carol Goodman and Patsy Eckstein of Galion, Mrs. Fred Butcher of Columbus, and the bride's sister, Mrs. B. Marvin Clark of Kansas City, Mo.

After a short wedding trip, the couple will live in Edison with the bridegroom's parents until he enters Ohio State university in the fall. He was graduated from Harding High school, Marion, in 1945, and was in service with the U. S. Army for two and one-half years, spending part of the time overseas. The former Miss Benbow was graduated from Galion High school in 1946. She resigned her position as receptionist at the Galion Iron Works and Manufacturing Co. prior to her marriage.

Pastors Given Assignments

List Read by Bishop as North-East Ohio Conference Ends at Lakeside.

Among Methodist churches in the Marion area which are in the Mansfield district of the Northeast Ohio conference, four changes of pastors were made at closing session of the conference Monday, The Associated Press reported today. Assignments were read by Bishop H. Lester Smith. Conference met at Lakeside.

Named to the Galion Market Street church was Rev. Alva Taylor who was transferred from another area. A shift of pastors involving two districts placed Rev. S. M. Firestone as pastor of the Marengo-Fulton charge, taking the place of Rev. Dale W. Riggs who was assigned to the Amherst-South Amherst charge in the Norwalk district. Rev. W. H. Ayers, appointed to the Nevada-Union charge, was formerly at Market Street church in Galion. Former pastor of Nevada-Union, Rev. G. O. Bennethum, was named to the Jeromesville-Polk charge in the Mansfield district. New pastor at Sycamore is Rev. W. A. Hewitt, transferred from Butler church in the Mansfield district. Sycamore's former pastor was Rev. Firestone.

CLINTON P. ANDERSON
Secretary of Agriculture Says:

American Women—
Your Used Fats Are Still Needed!
America's homemakers have saved and turned in over 600 million pounds of used cooking fats since 1942. This is an average of nearly 20 pounds for each family in the United States. It is a record of which every woman can be proud.
However, it is still necessary to conserve every pound of fat, since the over-all fat supply situation is little better now than it was last year when we were desperately short, particularly of industrial fats.
Manufacture of many of the things we all use and wear in our daily lives requires industrial fats or the products of industrial fats. Used cooking fats turned in by American women have been and continue to represent an important part of our total industrial fats supply. Every pound of salvaged fat helps meet the need.
Clinton P. Anderson, Secretary of Agriculture

Verdict in Death Of Mansfielder Withheld

By The Associated Press

MILLERSBURG, O., July 1—Holmes County Coroner A. J. Earney still withheld today his verdict in the fatal shooting of Dudley H. Martin, 31, of Mansfield rural route 4, on a country road in the southwestern part of the county Saturday.

Sheriff Wayne D. Starmer reported last night that the rifle with which Martin was shot was purchased by Martin in a Mansfield sporting goods store Saturday morning. The sheriff said Martin told salesmen at the store he wanted the rifle to shoot groundhogs.

Martin's body was found in a woods near a township road. There was a .22 caliber rifle bullet hole in his head and the rifle was at his feet. Martin's car was at the edge of the road, three tires punctured by rifle shots and the headlights and fog lights shot out.

TRUMAN PLEA STIRS CLASH

Rent Lobby Broadside Brings Sharp Division of Congressional Opinion.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, July 1—President Truman's plea that congress investigate what he called the "brazen operations" of real estate lobbyists today generated a broadside of clashing reaction with political overtones.

The Chief Executive made his appeal in assailing the rent control extension bill which he signed reluctantly because of provisions permitting 15 per cent rent increases and junking nearly all construction controls.

Senator Bricker (R-Ohio) denounced Mr. Truman's lobby inquiry proposal as "the "cheapest kind of political demagoguery."

But Senator Taft, Bricker's Ohio colleague and — like Bricker — widely mentioned as an aspirant for the Republican presidential nomination, told reporters in commenting on the President's call for a full investigation:

"I wouldn't mind doing that myself."

Taft is one of the authors of pending legislation to set up a long range housing program which Mr. Truman commended and which Bricker condemns.

Arthur W. Binns, head of the national home and property damers foundation, said his group would welcome an investigation.

"Nothing would please us more," Binns asserted, "than to have the truth spread upon the record and the American people realize the damage that has been done to them by destructive legislation and administration and false economics."

However, Herbert U. Nelson, executive vice president of the National Association of Real Estate boards, declaring in another statement that "it is nonsense to talk about investigating us" because congress has "the complete records of our activities as required by law."

Tail Assembly Failure Blamed for Air Crash

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, July 1—The civil aeronautics board said today its investigation indicates "some unit or assembly" in the tail failed in flight of the Eastern airlines plane which crashed near Bainbridge, Md., May 30, carrying 53 persons to death.

The board's preliminary report said "the inference is that nothing fell from the aircraft until just before it crash."

There were widespread reports originally that part of the tail had fallen from the plane while it was in flight, or during its descent.

The Bainbridge crash was the costliest in the nation's commercial flying history. It occurred as the aircraft carrying 49 passengers and a crew of four went into a dive out of straight and level flight in clear weather while enroute from New York to Miami.

Schwellenbach, Erstwhile Head Of U. S. Labor, Virtually Jobless

By FREDERICK C. OTHMAN
United Press Writer

WASHINGTON, July 1—"Senators opposed to the plan will vote aye," announced Chairman Arthur H. Vandenberg. "Those in favor will vote no."

Ulp, went the senate.

"You mean those for the President's plan will vote no?" insisted Sen. Alben W. Barkley of Ky.

"Yes," snapped Sen. Vandenberg.

"And those who are against it will vote yes?" asked Sen. Forrest C. Donnell of Mo.

"That is correct," Sen. Vandenberg replied. So the senators who meant "no" said "yes" and, of course, vice-versa. The ayes, meaning nay, had it by two votes and wham! the poor old secretary of labor who didn't have any too much to do as it was, lost still another job.

The senators took the United States employment service away from him (effective six months after the war is officially ended) and gave it to the federal security agency. And what this country needs now is a special employment service for a jobless cabinet member.

Gave Up Lifetime Job

The secretary of labor is Lewis B. Schwellenbach, who gave up a lifetime post as a federal judge to take over his disappearing job. He has three undersecretaries, ...ese dignitaries, plus thousands of clerks (mostly ladies), function in one of the most magnificent of all the marble halls on Constitution avenue.

They soon will have nothing to do with any important labor problems. They run the women's bureau and they supervise the calculating machines of the bureau of labor statistics, which issues monthly figures on wages, the cost of living and such.

One wise-cracker called Secretary Schwellenbach the only bureau chief in the President's cabinet. Another nicknamed him the secretary of labor statistics.

Anybody who has an urgent labor problem must soon ignore the secretary of labor, because the federal agencies in charge of labor will be somewhere else. The federal security agency tries to find jobs for the jobless. The national labor relations board, which will administer most of the new Taft-Hartley act, is an independent outfit. So will be the conciliation service.

"And the house has refused any appropriation at all for the labor standards division," mourned Sen. Barkley. "It will died altogether, unless the senate can do something. So we take away the employment service and what have we got at the labor department?"

Sen. Joseph H. Ball of Mich. answered that one. He said the secretary's still sitting there, and all his assistants, with virtually nothing to do.

Would Prefer Labor

I did a little snooping at the labor department, where oil paintings from the old relief administration still decorate the halls, and I must report that the non-laboring experts weren't happy. They'd prefer a little labor.

They revealed one item, weirder even than the ones I've reported so far, involving jobs for veterans. At the end of selective service, the labor department inherited the necessity of supervising the reemployment rights of veterans.

The veterans' employment service, however, has been transferred to the social security organization. How this is going to work, nobody seemed to know. And if you have any suggestions on ways for the secretary of labor to keep busy (he hates crossword puzzles and he's not the kind of a fellow to knit) get in touch with Lew Schwellenbach, the nearly laborless labor chief.

RADIO EXECUTIVE DIES

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., July 1—Milton A. Pixley, 68, co-owner of radio station WCOL here, died today in a Petoskey, Mich., hospital of injuries suffered in a fishing trip accident last Thursday, relatives reported. He fell from a boat at Lake Bellaire near his Michigan summer home. He was attempting to remove weeds lodged in the craft's propellor at the time of the accident, reports said.

TRUMAN SIGNS FUNDS BILL BUT HITS TERMS

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, July 1—President Truman today signed the $12,402,485,671 treasury-postoffice appropriations bill but criticized what hhe termed the "gross inadequacy" of funds provided for tax collection.

"The administration of the taxing statutes should never be influenced by political considerations, Mr. Truman said in a statement, adding:

"People of all political faiths are called upon to support their government through the payment of taxes and are entitled to adequate administrative controls to insure that the dishonest do not shift their share to the honest."

The total for the two departments is about $883,000,000 less than Mr. Truman asked for operations in the fiscal year beginning today. But he objected specifically to a $20,000,000 cut which he said was made in funds for the treasury's internal revenue bureau.

Mr. Truman did not elaborate on the reference to "political considerations."

In his statement announcing signing of the bill, the President said the reduction in internal revenue bureau funds will mean laying off 4,000 to 5,000 employes "and will result in a direct loss of revenue of not less than $400,000,000 in the fiscal year 1948." He continued:

"There is at the present time, with present personnel a backlog of 30,000 'leads' on tax evasions awaiting investigation."

"It will take years to restore the damage done by the failure of the congress to support the current efforts of our tax collection agency."

NEWARK INDICTS 11 IN GAMBLING DRIVE

By The Associated Press

NEWARK, O., July 1—Eleven indictments were handed up by the Licking county grand jury yesterday as it concluded the first phase of a special investigation of gambling.

Joseph Huffman of Columbus, operator of a gambling establishment in Etna township raided by officers a few weeks ago, was named in seven of the indictments.

The four others were secret.

Huffman, now serving a 60-day jail sentence for exhibiting a roulette wheel, was accused in the indictments of operating slot machines, a race horse book and other gambling devices.

Special Prosecutor Glenn Kreider said he would have more evidence to submit to the grand jury within a few weeks. He pointed out that of the 36 subpoenas sent out, only seven were answered.

Kreider said he was seeking to determine whether persons who ignored the subpoenas might be cited for contempt of court.

Meanwhile, Common Pleas Judge Charles B. Holtsberry, who convened the jury in special session, declared it had "displayed fearless action" that would have effect in years to come.

"We have started on this thing," he added, "and we are going to see it all the way through."

Army Recruiters On Lions Club Program

A motion picture film, "War on Wheels" was presented Monday at the weekly luncheon meeting of Lions club at Hotel Harding by Major Lee Burnham, commanding officer of Marion Army recruiting station, assisted by Sgt Charles L. Boulevare of the recruiting staff.

Major Burnham said this will be first Independence Day since 1940 when the Army has carried on without compulsory enlistments and he listed the required strength fixed by congress as 1,070,000 men. He stated further that original enlistments are now supporting full strength of the army, activities of which are based on youth and quality rather than numbers.

Glenn Pierson, one of the charter Lion members, announced he will be leaving soon to accept the promotion as distribution superintendent with the Elyria division of Ohio Public Service Co.

The meeting yesterday was the last of the season for the retiring president, Cecil Gabler, who has been succeeded by Robert Morrison.

A report on progress in the Soap Box Derby was given by Dr. Daniel Murphy, who also stated all prizes are now on display in the Army recruiting office window on South Main street.

Guests included Jack Ehlen of Marion, Eugene Auld of St Charles, Mo., a charter member and former secretary of the Marion club and cub members, Jack Hanley and Jack Bray.

GUILTY VERDICT BAD FOR U.S., MAY SAYS

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, July 1 — The defense at the May-Garsson war fraud trial asserted today United States enemies abroad could use a guilty verdict in the case "as a powerful argument against democracy."

Defense Attorney Charles J. Margiotti made this contention to the federal district court jury trying Andrew J. May wartime chairman of the house military committee and munitions makers Henry and Murray Garsson on bribe conspiracy charges, declaring:

"Imagine the effect of a conviction on the enemies of democracy."

"They can say 'Look, there in America is the chairman of the powerful military affairs committee and big munitions makers convicted of fraud—of lining their pockets with gold.'

"Don't you think that would be a powerful argument against democracy?"

The defense attorney shouted that it was "impossible to believe" that May and the Garssons entered into a fraud conspiracy and left a trail of public records, letters and other documents.

If any conspiracy existed for the Garssons to pay May $50,000 in wartime bribes as the government charges Margiotti said they would have been more secretive about it.

"I never heard of a politician accepting graft in this manner," the attorney said "things just don't happen that way."

He asserted that the Garssons and May had left their wartime dealings "open for anybody to see."

The government charges that the 72-year-old May took more than $50,000 from the Garssons as pay for his influence in helping their $70,000,000 munitions firms.

Kansas Opens State's Top Wheat Harvest

By The United Press

PRATT, Kans., July 1—Kansas Governor Frank Carlson stood waist-deep in golden grain Monday to watch the opening of the state's greatest wheat harvest in history.

Carlson, a northern Kansas wheat grower himself, was in the field with the first harvest hands as the big combines or reapers-threshers clipped the grain in this area where only a dozen years ago the yield was perpetually tumbleweeds and dust storms.

Government experts have predicted that Kansas this year will produce 278,000,000 bushels of wheat—enough to supply bread for every resident of the state for a third of a century, enough to stay temporarily the hunger of the countless unfed persons overseas.

Manufacturers Discuss Possible Coal Shortage

It was announced that G W Rosecrans of Columbus legislative director of the Ohio Chamber of Commerce, will be speaker at the next meeting of the council.

ner Marion Man Devises New Mower

Turner, president and ... manager of Turner of Indianapolis, former ... president, has just completed arrangements for the sale and distribution of the latest device in his farm equipment line through the Willy's Overland Co. and their worldwide distributor sales organization.

The new device, known as the Turner mower, has been especially designed for the Willys Jeep and other small four-wheel tractors. The mower has been demonstrated before highway commissions, park boards and farmers and has met with favorable attention because of the ease of operation, the mower blade being in front and in full view at all times, making it possible to cut around trees and other obstructions.

Mr. Turner is a native of LaRue and was active in the building of Old Fort Mills, soybean storage and processing plant, the first in Ohio, now part of the McMillen Feed Company.

New, Modern X-Ray Equipment at City Hospital To Be Ready by Wednesday

By JOHN BRYANS

Installation of a new X-ray machine including several new features is under way at City hospital, according to Safety-Service Director E. O. Uncapher. The new machine is seven times as powerful as the machine which has been in use. The machine being replaced has been used about 20 years, Dr. A. E. Morrison, hospital X-ray technician, said. Advantages of the new machine will be beneficial in taking pictures of infants, unconscious persons, extremely ill and aged patients.

The new machine was produced by the General Electric Co., and is valued at approximately $10,000. It is expected to be in operation by Wednesday.

Especially beneficial in cases of infants and the seriously ill will be the speed advantage of the new machine. Now it will not be necessary to keep infants still for a long period while the picture is being exposed, and patients will not be required to "take a deep breath and hold it" during the long exposure formerly necessary.

Because the new machine is more powerful, and produces a greater quantity of X-rays, Dr. Morrison pointed out, pictures may be taken much faster, thus doing away with longer exposures formerly necessary. With the new machine some pictures that were previously impossible may now be taken. The machine will be used entirely for diagnostic work, and not for treatment.

Among modern features incorporated are a new type of tube which has a small focal spot. This enables the technician to secure a much clearer picture in which details can be seen to better advantage.

What is known as a spot film device will make possible the taking of X-ray pictures at the same time that a fluouroscope is being used. Dr. Morrison explained that formerly it was impossible to do both at the same time because it was necessary to detach the fluoroscope and reset the machine to take a permanent picture. The fluoroscope is a device which produces an image on a screen, but not not produce pictures that may be studied later. The combined fluoroscope and picture-making features will be especially valuable in stomach work.

Another new addition is the stereoscope. This is similar to the old fashioned stereoptican which gave the illusion of distance or depth to ordinary photographs. The stereoscope will produce the same effect on X-ray images, and will be used for study of the chest.

In cases of serious illness the patient need not leave his bed to have X-rays taken. A hospital bed may be wheeled under the new machine, thus eliminating transfer of the patient in such cases.

Though the table installed with the new machine is about the same in principle as the older type, it is much more flexible. The new table may be tilted from the horizontal to the vertical, a vast improvement over the table formerly used which could only be tilted from 10 to 15 degrees.

Installation of the new X-ray apparatus is being done in the same room at City hospital in which the old machine was located. Little remodeling will be necessary because the room was prepared and sufficiently heavy wiring installed when the hospital was remodeled several years ago. Although it has many added features, the new machine is actually a bit smaller than the old, Dr Morrison said. Streamlining of construction has resulted in the smaller size, he said.

Premature Birth

TIME after time in this column I have explained that a well-balanced diet, rich in all essential food elements, is a must for the expectant mother and her unborn child.

Today my warnings in this matter are being underscored by Dr. Nicholson J. Eastman of Johns Hopkins University and Hospital who believes, as the result of a recent study, that a poor diet during pregnancy may even rob the baby of its chance for life.

Dr. Eastman's findings throw much light on the still unsolved problem of premature birth, the greatest single cause of death among babies who die during the first two weeks of life.

Now, there are certain things which have long been known to cause premature births; twin pregnancies, the toxemia or poisoning which sometimes develops in the mother during pregnancy, high blood pressure, and separation of the afterbirth before the normal time. But these account for comparatively few instances of prematurity. In fully three-fourths of the cases, nobody has ever been able to discover why these babies should be born early, before their development is complete.

Dr. Eastman studied 2,500 such cases. He noticed that in this group the prematurity occurred more often in the colored patients than in the white ones, and particularly in those of the lower income classes.

He also found that the premature births were more frequent in those mothers who did not have proper and adequate care during pregnancy. It has not been found that the right kind of work by the mother-to-be during pregnancy is a factor of any importance in bringing on too early birth of a baby.

Importance of Diet

Dr. Eastman is of the opinion, however, that diet may be a factor of importance. Faulty nutrition, particularly due to a lack of sufficient vegetables, milk and meat in the diet, he believes, deserves serous consideration as a possible cause of the difference in the number of premature births in those of high and low incomes.

Another study showed that in women with poor diets, eight out of every one hundred gave birth to premautre babies, while if these diets were supplemented with milk, cheese, oranges, tomatoes vitamin B-complex and vitamin D capsules that the rate dropped to two out of each one hundred; and in women with good diets, the rate was only three out of each one hundred.

Thus, it would appear most important, if the premature births are to be prevented, that mothers during pregnancy be given the best possible care, and particular attention be given to supplying them with all of the necessary food possible in the form of a well-balanced diet.

60 LITTLE GRAND CIRCUIT HORSES AWAIT STARTING GUN

Tonight's Jump-Off Session To Feature Running of 8 Races

By DON C. BURTON

More than 60 horses are feeling their oats awaiting the starters' signal for the opening events in the 17-day meet of the Little Grand Circuit at the Fairgrounds tonight.

Most of the old time drivers, plus a field of newcomers have their spangles ready to don in the eight races on the program tonight.

The track will be in fast condition for tonight's opening, Frank M. Foster, racing secretary said this morning. Dust was reported as the drivers were giving the horses a workout early today.

Joe McGraw, recognized as the top presiding judge in the harness racing game, will be in the officials stand to decide the winners and to see that every race is contested according to rules

McGraw has been a Judge at the Little Grand Circuit here for many years, with the exception of last year, when he worked the entire season at Roosevelt Raceways in New York.

2 New Features

Two new features will be introducer at the meeting this year The first is the use of a new starting gate.

For many years one of the greatest drawbacks to harness racing has been the method of starting. This problem has finally been solved by the invention of a starting gate which keeps the horses and their sulkies in line until they are all in stride, when the gate moves ahead and folds up. The inventor of the device to be used, Paul Young, will be the official starter here.

A single dash system instead of the old three event system is the other innovation this year. This will create much more interest as each race will find a new group of entries instead of a return of an earlier race.

The complete list of entries for tonight follow:

The name of the horse in order of post position is followed by the name of the driver

Mt. Vernon Tourney Set for Next Month

MT. VERNON—If past records mean anything, a new champion will be crowned here early next month when the annual district six softball tournament is held at Riverside park.

During the past three years as many different clubs have copped the title and a place in the state playoffs

Barnes Manufacturing company of Mansfield will be back to defend the championship it won at Marion last year The current crop of top nines playing in the seven-county district this summer will likely make the chances of repeating plenty tough.

In 1945 the Westinghouse Electric club of Mansfield took the district tourney at Ashland while Smitty's Grill of Marion won the 1944 title at Upper Sandusky.

Entry forms for the tournament may be obtained by writing to Hal Clawson, district commissioner, the News, Mt. Vernon, O. Deadline for entering the tourney is Saturday, July 19

CONNIE MACK HONORED

By The Associated Press

MERIDEN, Conn, July 1—Sixty-three years ago Connie Mack broke into organized baseball with the Meriden club in the old Connecticut league Today, the 84-year-old "Mr. Baseball" returns here for a day named in his honor.

Frank Shea Challenges Two Kingpins as AL's Top Hurler

By The Associated Press

Rookie righthander Frank Shea of the New York Yankees, unofficially tabbed the best freshman hurler of the major leagues, today challenged Bob Feller of Cleveland and Hal Newhouser of Detroit for the designation as the American league's number one pitcher.

Shea last night gained his 10th victory against only two defeats when he defeated the American league champion Red Sox in Boston 3-1.

Shea, whose three shutout victories rank him behind only Feller and Walter Masterson of the Washington Senators in that department, has allowed more than three runs in only one game, a 9-6 victory over the same Red Sox His two defeats were by the narrowest of margins, a 1-0 loss to the Red Sox in which he allowed only three hits and a 3-2 defeat by the Chicago White Sox in 10 innings Three times he has topped Newhouser in pitching duels

Joe Dobson biggest winner on the Red Sox was Shea's opposing moundsman, but a two-run triple by Joe DiMaggio in the first inning got Jug-Handle Joe off on the wrong foot

The Brooklyn Dodgers, led by their new home run slugger Pee Wee Reese, their new outfielder Arky Vaughan and their new cleanup hitter Carl Furillo, downed the Phillies in Philadelphia 7-4 Reese, Vaughan and Furillo bagged three hits apiece, one of Reese's being his ninth home run The Dodgers hammered Schoolboy Rowe for 14 hits to hand the big righthander his first setback since April 21, 1946, at Shibe park where he had won 13 straight.

The Chicago White Sox spotted Detroit a 5-0 lead in the second inning and then came on to defeat the Tigers 6-5 in Chicago on Luke Appling's eighth inning home run off Hal White

Washington emerged the victor in a see-saw battle with the Philadelphia Athletics, winning 8-7 with a three-run cluster in the last of the ninth A single by Mickey Vernon, 1946 batting champion of the league, scored Buddy Lewis from second with the winning run

Blackwell Shows He Has Heart As Well as Good Arm

By The Associated Press

CINCINNATI, July 1—Ewell Blackwell, the Cincinnati Reds' great pitcher, has a stout heart as well as a sturdy right arm.

Seeking his 13th win before a record night crowd of 31,637 here last night, he yielded four runs to the Chicago Cubs in the first inning on two hits, three bases on balls and a two-run error by teammate Eddie Miller, then gave the Bruins only two more safeties the rest of the way as the Reds came from behind to win, 6-4

Blackwell, who pitched the major league's first no-hitter of the season against the Braves here June 18, fanned 11 and issued four passes as he marked up his 11th straight triumph

It looked like a sure rout for the six-five hurler as the game got under way.

The first two Cubs to face him, Don Johnson and Peanuts Lowrey, punched out singles. Bill Nicholson drew a base on balls and Johnson was forced home as Andy Pafko loped to first after looking at four bad ones Dom Dallessandro struck out but Bob Sheffling walked, pushing Lowrey across the plate

Marv Rickert forced Sheffling at second but Nicholson and Pafko scored as Miller threw wide to first in an effort to complete a double play. Blackwell threw out Bob Sturgeon to end the inning.

The Reds got to Erickson and Johnny Schmitz, his successor, for 14 hits, including Eddie Lukon's sixth homer of the year in the seventh.

They broke the ice in the third with a run on singles by Benny Zientara, who finished with four hits in five trips and Bert Haas A single by Frankie Baumholtz, a double by Zientara and a single by Grady Hatton produced two more markers in the fourth

The tying and winning runs were scored in the sixth on singles by Ray Lamanno and Baumholtz. Bob Sturgeon's overthrow of second on Zientara's grounder, and Hatton's fly

BASEBALL'S "Georgia Peach," Ty Cobb, autographs a bat for 14-year-old Jimmie McDonald in Reno, Nev., after leaving divorce court where the famed outfielder divorced Mrs Charlie Lombard Cobb

Feller Out To Regain American League Lead in Total Victories

By The Associated Press

ST. LOUIS, July 1—Rapid Robert Feller will attempt to regain the American league lead in total victories tonight when the Cleveland Indians and the flooded-out St. Louis Browns pry the lid from an abbreviated series.

A revamped Indians lineup was expected to take the field, with Manager Lou Boudreau returning to his starting shortstop post after being sidelined with an ankle injury and rookie Eddie Robinson replacing stocky Les Fleming at first base.

The Tribe yesterday signed Harold Naragon, former star catcher of the Barberton, O., High school team.

The 18-year-old Barberton receiver starred for four seasons with the Barberton Magics and batted a healthy .430 with the class A Kenmore Taverns at Akron last season.

The Yankees, Boston Red Sox, Chicago Cubs, Detroit Tigers and Boston Braves also bid unsuccessfully for the services of Naragon, who starts his minor league career this week with the Tribe's Pittsfield, Mass, farm club.

Double Main Event Scheduled at Armory

Two main events are on the card for Thursday night wrestling at the Armory. They will be 90-minute two out-of-three-fall bouts. Matched in the first are Billy Fox of Cleveland and Dutch Schultz, the Houston, Tex grappler In the second match Gordon Passell of Milwaukee will meet a Canadian, Rod Fenton Sammy DeLong and Bill Monroe, local wrestlers, will appear in a 10-minute preliminary.

Trinity Baptist and No. 1 Irish Finish Softball Round in Stymie

Trinity Baptist and St. Mary No. 1 finished the first round of Sunday School Softball league play in a tie. Both have won six and lost one. A playoff for the top spot will be held before the second round starts. Epworth and Greenwood still have a game to play but their positions in the race are set.

Three good games and a wild runaway marked the games in the Sunday School league last night. In the best game of the evening Trinity scored a run in the fifth for the only run of the ball game to win over Forest Lawn 1-0. Kenneth Somerlot, first up in the fifth, reached first on an error and moved to third on an infield out and scored on a double by Reed. The game was played at the Crystal Lake diamond. Rice pitched two-hit ball for the winners.

St. Mary No. 1 staged a four-run rally in the fifth round at the Marion Power Shovel diamond and took the lead from Epworth to win, 4-1. Two walks and three hits including a timely double by King accounted for the St. Mary victory. Myers let Epworth down with four hits.

St. Mary No. 2 was not so fortunate as they were held to four hits by McDonaugh of Greenwood and fell, 5-0, at McKinley park. Spain homered for Greenwood in the fifth.

In the only runaway of the night United Brethren walloped Presbyterian, 17-5, at Garfield.

Newark To Play Cubs Here Tonight

After taking league-leading Zanesville in three out of four games in a crucial series over the weekend here, the Marion Cubs are licking their chops awaiting the arrival of the Newark Browns.

The Browns under the management of Sad Sam Jones will play here in single games tonight and tomorrow. It will be the first appearance of the Browns here since Jones took over the helm two weeks ago. He is a veteran of 20 years in the big leagues as a pitcher for the Yankees, White Sox and others.

Game time: 8 p. m.

SMALLEST PITCHER DIES

By The Associated Press

ALBANY, N. Y., July 1—Meldon "Mellie" Wolfgang, 57, one of the smallest pitchers ever to hurl in the major leagues, died yesterday. Wolfgang, who stood only five feet, six inches and who weighed around 155 pounds, was a righthander for the Chicago White Sox from 1911-18, and before that pitched for Albany in the old New York State league. He retired from baseball about 1919.

Detroit Knuckles Under To Growing Night Ball Trend

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, July 1—The Detroit Tigers' decision to play night baseball in 1948 was viewed today as the next-to-the-last step in the trend that showman Larry MacPhail began in Cincinnati in 1935.

Of the 16 major league teams only the Chicago Cubs will not be playing at least some of their home games under the arcs next season and most observers believe it will not be long before owner Phil Wrigley and general manager Jim Gallagher "see the light," too.

MacPhail, the red-head who tried to kidnap the Kaiser in World War I, brought down a storm of criticism in '38 when, as general manager of the Reds, he put lights in Crosley field. But the large crowds drawn by the cellar-dwelling Rhinelanders slowy but surely changed the blasts to boosts.

When MacPhail moved to Brooklyn to head the also-floundering Dodgers, he put lights in Ebbets field in 1938. The first night game in Brooklyn was the occasion of Johnny Vandermeer's second straight no-hitter and from then on the crowds flocked to see the flock at night.

The Dodgers' success with night ball opened the flood gates. Lights went into Shibe park for the Philadelphia A's and Phils in 1939 and in the same year into League park for the Cleveland Indians, and into Comiskey field for the Chicago White Sox.

In 1940, the Pittsburgh Pirates, the St. Louis Browns and Cards, and the New York Giants hopped on the bandwagon and they were joined in '41 by the Washington Senators. During the war years there were no new additions to nighthawks A. C., but in '46 the Boston Braves and New York Yankees joined in and in '47 came the Boston Red Sox. And now the Tigers.

DOYLE PRINCIPALS CLEARED IN DEATH

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, July 1—A coroner's verdict today cleared all principals involved in the June 24 title match between welterweight Champion Ray (Sugar) Robinson and Jimmy Doyle of any responsibility for the challenger's death.

Ruling that Doyle's death was "accidental," and that Robinson was "absolutely blameless," Coroner S. R. Gerber yesterday recommended these changes in Cleveland and Ohio boxing regulations:

Fighters who have suffered previous head injury should be barred from the ring; physicians to examine boxers should be appointed by the mayor;

Laws governing matches should be uniform throughout the state; rings should afford more protection to fighters in development of new mats, ropes and braces, and boxing commissions should keep a medical record of all fighters permitted to box.

The coroner said Robinson was "innocently involved in an unforeseen and unfortunate occurrence," and added that the Harlem boxer was "unfortunate in being the opposing contestant at the time of Doyle's fatal injuries."

Smitty's All Stars Take Upper Sandusky, 6-2

Smitty's All Stars banged four hits out in the first inning of the game at Upper Sandusky last night against Baldridge Tire, sending three men across the plate to score.

One walk, two singles and two errors sent three more in to make the score 6-2 which wrapped up the game for the local team.

A triple in the first by Fritz Walters was the longest hit scored. Millisor and Anderson were the battery for the All Stars and for Baldridge, Debolt, D. Gottried and Orians.

Score by innings:

All Stars	330	000	0—6	6 0
Baldridge Tire	010	000	1—2	6 2

By The Associated Press

TOLEDO, O., July 1—Deputy Sheriff Carl Fritz of Monroe county, Michigan, reported that one of three Erie, Mich., youths held for illegal possession of fireworks acknowledged lighting a firecracker that led to the death of 11 year-old Lewis Holup of Toledo. Startled by the firecracker exploding near his face, the boy fell from a pier and drowned yesterday in Half Way creek north of here across the Michigan border.

John Alden, of Pilgrim "speak for thyself John" fame, was a cooper by trade.

LOVE'S PERILOUS PATH

By ADELE GARRISON

I ROSE from my chair and swept Katharine an elaborate salaam.

"As always," I said, "you have found a way out. I know you wouldn't advocate such exciting relaxations for Mary unless you were sure of her. But—have you thought how Phil Veritzen is going to react to this sudden recovery when he has been led to believe she has been at death's door?"

"She has," Katharine said soberly; "far nearer than he dreams, and a most horrible self-inflicted death, too. If you don't mind leaving old Phil to me—"

"Lady," I said fervently, spreading my arms wide, "he is all yours now and forever more. Deal with him as you wish, only remembering that if he gets wrong notions about this, it is in his power to sabotage Mary's career."

"How much do you want me to tell him about this phobia of Mary's?" she countered.

"If Harriet's answer is unfavorable," I began hesitantly, and she cut me short.

"If her answer is unfavorable," she said, "we'll have to begin thinking about real bars and the best alienist procurable. But I am sure it's going to be favorable. In which case—"

"In which case, tell him the truth," I said. "Every bit of it. Make him see how poignant Mary's anguished fear was, and how she was in no shape to see anyone."

"I'll do that," she replied, "and then I'll arrange things so that she'll have an interview with Phil before she sees anyone else except Noel, and before she sets foot outside this door. I'll also make him see that physically she is all right, and that with this horrible fear gone, gayety will be the best thing for her."

Drawn All His Fangs

"You will have drawn all his fangs," I told her, smiling. "Now, if the report from Harriet is favorable, when ought Mary to be able to go back to her own apartment?"

"Whenever she wishes," she said. "But before she goes, either you or I will have to stage an interview with that young husband of hers, and put the fear of Jehovah into him. He must not upset Mary; he must humor her. And yet he must be ready to be firm when she is overdoing."

"Katrina, my darling," I said firmly, "in my husband's picturesque vocabulary, Noel is your meat. I have had too many interviews with him about Mary for him to be impressed by anything I could say. I will prepare the way, and I will deliver him into your hands, a lamb to the slaughter. I hope to heaven your knife is sharp."

"I'll try not to flay him too deeply," she promised, and then the door opened, and Dicky looked quizzically in at us.

"I trust, mesdames," he said, "that your not-to-delicate appetites have been appeased. Of course, if you wish an extension of time, we'll grant it, but—"

"Save your breath!" Katharine admonished him. "I'll be right with you. In fact I'll excuse you from further service if you wish to join your deeply devoted spouse and help her round up Room Service. But you won't find any seconds in our table, in case you're looking for any."

"Nor on ours," Dicky told her. Then he turned back to the bedroom.

"Au revoir, Brat," he said. "Mrs. Bickett will attend you immediately, and Mrs. Graham will be with you anon. Make them genuflect and address you as 'Ma'am.' I'm the only one who can call Your Highness Brat,' and get away with it."

"Thank you for everything," Mary's voice caroled.

Hidden Hysteria

But Katharine's eyes met mine as she started for the door, and reflected the concern that was mine. For Mary's voice held hidden hysteria. I was sure of it.

In another minute, Dicky and Katharine had passed each other. Katharine went into the bedroom, closing the door after her, and Dicky came toward me, mopping his forehead with his handkerchief.

"Whew!" he breathed, as he sat down heavily in the chair Katharine had vacated and lit a cigaret with fingers that trembled a little. "I don't want another hour like that for one good long while to come. That poor kid! She's so jittery, and yet so brave about it, trying to keep it under cover, that it takes the heart right out of you and wrings it. I wish we could put her to sleep and keep her under until Harriet telephones."
